Agenda

- 01 Manuscript

- 02 Digitization

- 03 Case Study: Banten Manuscript

- 04 Conclusion

Manuscript

- Manuscript is one of the objects of cultural advancement, which has all the information about cultural and historical value, including serat, babad, hikayat, and kitab. It is important because manuscripts are ancient printed sources of knowledge, the results of written works of ancestors that are full of meaning.
- The condition of the existing manuscripts is quite worrying, with the paper having many dirty spots, torn, booklice, mouldy and damaged by natural disasters such as floods.
- Some people still keep some of these manuscripts. They received them from their ancestors and perform simple maintenance by cleaning them from dust, applying champor, or adding some coffee beans to protect them from insects.

Digitization

1

It identifies opportunities where digital tools contribute significantly to the documentation, archiving, and accessibility of cultural artifacts, traditions, and languages

2
